Scout hunts for Gotham air

I may not be much on looks but I have a good mouth. John James said. My job is conversation.

Slight balding and fast talking location manager James was surveying the sprawling dockside warehouse used in a chase sequence for Shaft.

As the show's location manager James scouts the Los Angeles area to find outdoor sites suitably simulating New York City where the series is set. His work was complicated this year by the writers' strike which delayed production and curtailed plans for extensive filming of exteriors in New York.
